Good Morning Limetree Green,

There's a Commotion in the ocean!

That's an interesting word!

The word Commotion.

What do you think that means?

For children it means noisy excitement and confusion.

I think that also describes our book corner in Limetree when there's more than 5 children in there!

Our story today is Commotion in the Ocean.

It takes us on an exciting journey of discovering what creatures and animals live in and around the ocean.

Here's a challenge for you...

Can you find out how many oceans there are in the world?

What are their names?

I hope you have a great time, reading, researching and creating.

Take good care.

From Miss Loftman.
