

Friday 1st May 2020

Good Morning Limetree Yellow!

Happy Friday! You used to love bringing objects for 'What's in the Box' on a Friday. Can you remember and name some of the things you've brought into Clown's over the last year?

My favourite 'What's in the Box' was when you brought in scrapbooks to show me what you'd been doing throughout the Winter Break. I wonder if any of you are keeping a scrapbook during this unusual time. It would be fantastic if you could keep all of the wonderful learning you're doing together in a folder or scrapbook.

Today you will be reading another story set under the sea; however, the main character in today's story is a mythical creature. Can you think of a mythical (imaginary) creature that lives under the sea? It's not a dragon or a unicorn...that's right - it's a mermaid! Today you will be reading 'The Singing Mermaid', by Julia Donaldson. Can you name any other books Julia Donaldson has written? You always gave me lots of answers when I asked this question in Limetree Yellow.

I hope you have lots of fun today - I hear there's going to be a magical carpet ride!

Love from,

Miss Cassidy

