Good Morning Limetree Yellow!

I hope you had lots of fun making maps, creating obstacle courses and playing 'quiet games' yesterday. I wonder which activity was your favourite?

Did you manage to guess our theme yet? That's right we're learning all about minibeasts! Let's see if you can guess which minibeast you're going to be learning about today:

-It has a black body

-It has 8 legs

-It makes a web to catch its food

That's right – it's a spider. Today you're going to be doing lots of spider-based activities. I wonder if you can remember our amazing Incy Wincy spider display in our classroom? I wonder if you can remember why we have a special Incy Wincy display? That's right – because he kept on trying and persevered, even when the rain kept washing him out – he persisted until the sun came out and he was able to climb the water spout. I wonder if you can keep on trying today, even if you find something tricky.

Have a wonderful day – keep on trying!

Love from,
Miss Cassidy
