Good Morning Limetree Yellow!

I hope you are happy. Have you noticed the weather has turned rainy – just in time for our Under the Sea themed learning! I hope you had lots of fun with all of the Snail and the Whale activities yesterday – did you manage to copy Miss McDade to create a paper whale?

Today you are going to join me to read Commotion in the Ocean by Giles Andreae and David Wojtowycz. I know you enjoy this story, because we have read it lots of times in Limetree Yellow. There are lots of different underwater creatures in the story: I wonder which will be your favourite? Today you will be asked to move like some of the creatures in the story, play a maths game with bubbles and find out more about your favourite animal.

I hope you have lots of fun!

Love From,

Miss Cassidy
