Good Morning Rosewood,

I hope you had lots of fun creating your paper whales and salt dough snails yesterday!

Today we're going to continue our 'Sea' theme by exploring the story 'Commotion in the Ocean'. This story is all about a curious commotion, at the bottom of the ocean; I think we ought to go and look. You'll find every sort of creature, that lives beneath the sea, swimming through the pages of this book.

Can you make a prediction (have a guess) before you read the story?

How many sea creatures do you think you will see?

Have lots of fun!

Love from

Miss McDade
