

Hello Limetree Green,

We trust that you are enjoying the learning activities we have provided for you, over the past few days. We are extremely appreciative of the feedback, pictures and videos that have been sent to us, which demonstrate how you are accessing and engaging with the learning opportunities provided. It is incredible how well you have persisted during this time, similar to our friends Percy the Persister and Betty the Believer.

Today you will be reading the story Where the Wild Things Are by Maurice Sendak. Before reading the story, have a look at the front cover. We wonder if you can answer these questions:

- What do you think the story will be about?*
- What can you see on the front cover?*
- Who do you think is the main character?*
- What does "wild" mean?*

Now turn to the back cover and read the blurb. Based on that information, how does that agree with your assumptions about the story?

We hope you have lots of fun today exploring, experimenting, reading, making dens and creating ooey gooey slime!

We look forward to receiving feedback, pictures and videos of your learning (particularly of your dens)!

Love from,

The Limetree Green Team (Miss John, Miss Loftman, Chirine, Nancy & Elsa) 😊
