Dear Elm Class,

Hello, Bonjour, Bueno Dias!

Did you enjoy the topic yesterday? Do you remember what you were learning about? Did you learn anything that you would like to share?

Our topic today is Creative Minds. Developing a love of creativity at a young age will help you to become a creative thinker as you grow older. So I hope you are ready to get messy, use your imagination and to have lots of fun while you explore all the activities on offer today☺.

Our story of the day is one of my favourites- The Scarecrows Wedding by Julia Donaldson. Do you remember that story? What is a scarecrow and where can you find them? Don't worry if you don't have the book at home because I have provided you with the link:

Other activities to explore today are:

Finger Gym- Encouraging the development of fine motor skills

Cornflour Messy Play- Describing the texture of things

Making a Den- Using available resources to make an enclosure

Hope you have a fun and productive day,

Miss you all,

Miss Dixon.

A calm mind is a creative mind.
