

Thursday 21st May

Hello Elm,

Hope you are feeling good. The weather has been amazing over the past few days so I hope you managed to get even a little bit of fresh air. Maybe you played in your garden or had a snack on your balcony.

Are you ready to learn? Today we will be exploring activities through the story Rainbow Fish by Marcus Pfister. It's quite a popular story so you may have heard of it already or have it in your story collection. Here is the link if you don't-

I also have some activities that I would like you to try today-
These are:

- Making a fish flag collage
- Painting rainbows
- Rainbow fish CD craft

Have you also been enjoying our additional activities that were also prepared just for you? Our language of the week is Dutch. Have you researched any key words? Also, do you know what our letter of the week is and have you thought of any objects that represent that sound?

I hope you have a productive day,

Lots of love,
Miss Dixon.
