

Friday 22nd May

Dear Elm,

I hope you are well and of course ready to learn!

The weather has been absolutely beautiful over the past few days. The sun is out and the birds are singing. If you have a garden or managed to spend a bit of time outdoors please don't forget to wear a sunhat and to put on sun cream. It is so important that you protect your skin from the sun!

Our story of the day is Aaaarrgghh Spider by Lydia Monks. Can you guess what the story is about? Do you like spiders? Most spiders spin webs. Have you ever seen a spider web before? Maybe you should try to find some the next time you go outside☺.

Other activities I would like you to try are

- Small World Play- Creating a scene from the story
- Rhyming Soup- Using your voice to find items that rhyme

Please have a go at trying these activities.

As always, I look forward to seeing your amazing pictures that you send to the online gallery. Please continue to share!

Thankyou.

Enjoy your weekend,

Miss Dixon
