Ahoy there me hearties!

Did you enjoy the activities you completed yesterday? Did you make an edible pirate ship or have lots of fun with water play? I hope so, because today you are going to continue with the pirate theme!

Today you're going to get moving, by joining in with a Pirate Bootcamp! You'll also be creating your own impression of a pirate, using art materials you have at home. And, I hope you can remember all of your counting skills as you're going to need them for counting treasure!

Follow the link below to play interactive pirate games, learn new songs and listen to stories:

Have a wonderful day!

Love from,
