

Good morning Peach!

Date: 13th May 2020

How is everybody doing? Did you enjoy the activities about your family yesterday? Did you draw a family picture and create a frame for it? If so, I would love to see it.

I am very excited about today's activities because we will be doing science experiments! It sounds like a day full of fun learning, doesn't it? Are you ready?

First, we will create a rainbow using Skittles. Make sure you will not eat the sweets before the experiment, alright?

Then we will mix water and oil to make a lava lamp. Once you finished making your lava lamp, try to look at it and breathe calmly. You will feel really relaxed after that.

We will also make our own honeycomb. I wonder if you know what a honeycomb is. I will give you a clue – it has something to do with honey and bees.

I hope you will enjoy exploring and do the experiment and as always, continue sending in your photos to see your fantastic work.

Love,
From Eva
