Dear Willow Class,

Good Morning! It's time to... explore, learn and have FUN 😊😊

Today we will be learning about families - families big, families small, families all around the world!

We will focus too on open-ended questions and give you couple examples that you can use to ask your children for engaging conversation...with the whole family!

One major point of asking children open-ended questions is to gather information. Try some of these questions and let us know if they do the magic. 😊😊

- What would happen if...
- I wonder what...
- What do you think might happen when...
- How did that happen?
- What do you need to do to begin the project?
- How does it work?
- What do you think is happening?
- What might you change?
- Can you think of...
- What is your plan?

Furthermore, our activities today include thinking and talking skills – encourage children to think and talk about their own family, count the family members, make houses from different materials or toys, draw and decorate family picture frame.

Enjoy our Rising 3's initiatives such as letter of the week (Bb), number of the week (15), and language of the week (Macedonian – my native language!).

Please have fun with these activities but don't feel they have to be done.

We wish you a great day and a fab week full of fun, love, health and happiness

I miss you all, stay safe!

Mr. Andonov
